

HOW TO: BACKUP OR REMOVE ACTIVIO SPORT SYSTEM

This information is also related to Activio Small Group System and the (outdated) Activio Fitness Lite.

The main application folder is located at: "C:\Program Files (x86)\Activio AB\Activio Sport System" if nothing else was selected during installation. This is the folder that contain the main software and also the folder that is deleted when we select the "Uninstall" option. But there are two more locations that contain Activio folders and files with the database (players and sessions) and advanced settings. All Activio folders and files in these two locations need to be copied and/or deleted depending of what we want to do.

BACKUP

To backup and/or move the database to another computer, copy the Activio folder in this location:

Windows XP: C:\Documents and Settings*<Windows Account>*\Application Data\Activio

Windows 7/Vista: C:\Users*<Windows Account>*\AppData\Roaming\Activio

When moving the database to another computer, the copied Activio folder need to be pasted in the exact same location on the target computer. The Activio software need to be not running during this copy/paste process.

REMOVE

To completely remove and clean the installation you first need to uninstall the application from the Control Panel in Windows. Then you need to manually clean the database and advanced settings from the computer. Delete all folders containing the word "Activio" in the Backup location above, and then delete all folders containing the word "Activio" in the location below:

Windows XP: C:\Documents and Settings*<Windows Account>*\Local settings\Application Data\...

Windows 7/Vista: C:\Users*<Windows Account>*\AppData\Local\...
